Yoemen Smash Caldwell "Jinx" and Win 31 to 7

Our Town

By J. B. White

A return of the old community spirit—that splendid spirit of solidarity and self-sacrifice and consideration for others that built this country on a substantial basis, is backing the President's National Recovery Program. It is the irresistible force responsible for our early, sturdy growth. The people themselves have seen at close range that NRA is doing what the President promised it could not fail to do with their support. And of late they are expressing themselves in a typically American method of approval. Editorial comment in local newspapers shows conclusively that parades in scores of cities and towns many out of all proportion to their size, were amazingly spontaneous demonstrations of a combined loyalty and satisfaction with the first stages of the relentless fight on depression.

The Sacramento Bee said:

"The obvious earnestness of the marchers and the remarkable enthusiasm of the mammoth crowd that came from dozens of counties to see the NRA parade offer unmistakable evidence of a determination to shake off the shackles of despondency. Sacramento believes with the President that there are short cuts back to presperity which, if utilized intelligently, will bring prompt recovery."

"A stupendous spectacle" and "a large portion of the state's population was present" were references to an NRA parade in Wilmington, Del., said to have required 6 hours to pass a given point.

The Tampa Tribune commented:

"Tampa and her neighbors demonstrated support of NRA with the largest parade in the city's history. It was the largest numerically and the greatest in its manifestation of community sentiment. It had in it practical patriotism of the highest order, unity of purpose, and determination. Employers, employees, and consumers marched to show they are for and with the President and are resolved to do their utmost to bring success to NRA."

In the parades in Kansas, Montana, Illinois, New Hampshire, Ohio, and other states it was interesting to note the presence invariably of the community spirit. The people came from neighboring towns and rural sections, and many asked to participate.

In preparing for a monster parade in Macon, Ga., the Telegraph of that city announced that 32 other counties were invited to attend and enter floats, and "of that number exactly 32 accepted" and took part in what was described as "the most important and largest attended event ever held in Macon." As in many other sections of the country, stores remained closed "to relieve Macon's gesture toward her neighbors of all suspicion of selfishness and as being in keeping with the spirit of NRA."

That the people upon whom the President depends have clear conception of the duty devolving upon them seems to be increasingly apparent.

HERBERT MARSHALL, MAY ROBSON and ELIZABETH ALLAN in "THE SOLITAIRE MAN"

"Solitaire Man" Is Football Preview Program At Cameron Theater Here Friday Night

Herbert Marshall heads the strong cast assembled for "The Solitaire Man," startling drama of super Continental crookdom and special picture for the Football Preview at the Cameron Theatre beginning at 10 o'clock Friday night, November 3.

The casting of Marshall in another role as a sophisticated "gentleman crook" brings him to the screen in a vehicle that has all the appeal of "Trouble in Paradise." The added drama of a smashing story by Bella and Samuel Spewack provides a thrilling basis for the action.

Meet in Plane Cabin

In the Spewack play every character's life is involved with that of the Solitaire Man. When they finally meet in the cabin of a passenger plane crossing the English Channel a situation arises that has scarcely been equaled on the screen. The climax is a breathless defiance of death.

Marshall's portrayal is that of a man driven to desperate measures by the loss of a fortune in the World War. Supposedly a rich jewel merchant, he is really disposing of valuables obtained during mighty expeditions among Europeans and Americans on the continent.

In the feminine romantic lead Elizabeth Allen has the most dramatic role of her career. She established herself as one of the screen's new important personalities in "Looking Forward," and is said to win new laurels in her performance with Marshall.

Comedy Headlights

Comedy headlights are provided in the picture by Mary Boland, popular comediene, who scored recently in "Secrets of a Secretary" and "Three Cornered Moon." Her role is blended into the drama to provide relief for the terrific tension of the climax.

Lionel Atwill, screen "terror" of such pictures as "The Silent Witness," "Doctor X" and "The Wax Museum,' has a role of "double menace." As a police informer he betrays Marshall while trying to steal jewels himself.

Dignity and convincing aristocratic atmosphere are provided by May Robson, in her part as a broken down member of English gentility trying to make a living disposing of jewels as "family heirlooms." She scored recently in "The White Sister" and "Dinner at Eight." Also featured prominently in the cast are Ralph Forbes, Lucille Gleason and Robert McWade.

JOHN BARRETT PIONEER BURIED AT NORTH ELM

John Barrett, 72, pioneer citizen of Milam county, died at 11 o'clock October 31, after a few days illness at his home near Yarrellton.

Mr. Barrett was born in Bibb county, Alabama June 17, 1961 on a farm which his grandfather, who had come from North Carolina to Alabama, bought in 1818, when the Indian tribes were removed from their native haunts to the Indian Territory west of the Mississippi River. He was the son of B. C. Barrett, who was with the Confederate troops at the time of the war between the States.

The Barrett family has long been prominent in church, political and civic life and helped change Milam county prairies into fine farms and homes. Mr. Barrett had been honored by his fellow citizens with the

COTTON LOANS A PART OF NATIONAL RECOVERY

More than temporary relief for a stricken farm product is involved in the federal government cotton loans.

The loans involve acreage reduction for 1934 crop and form the basis for restricted production to improve the price situation and restore the benefits of supply and demand.

Loans of 10c per pound on cotton placed in approved warehouses may now be obtained by the farmers and all cotton now in the warehouses is eligible for loans.

The cotton loans as they relate to contracts to reduce acreage next year are an important part of the National Recovery program and farmers wherever necessary should take advantage of the loan and sign for acreage reduction next year.

Loans in Cameron can now be obtained from W. H. Triggs & Sons, Cammer & Flinn, F. C. Fahrendorf and D. H. Slaughter for the warehouse of the Cameron Compress Co. The cost for handling these loans is the most economical for farmers, the fees involved being very small and stated in the contract.

The Cameron Compress Company operates warehouses bonded to the United States Government at Rosebud and Cameron, two of the eight now existing in Texas affording safety and ample storage facilities for farm cotton now available for loans.

COURT HERE TO PROVIDE NEEDED RIGHT OF WAY

The County Commissioners' Court Thursday afternoon voted to provide the right of way for highway 77, from Elm Creek Bridge south to the Cameron city limits, also from Little River bridge, south to Minerva and appointed the following Commissioners: Sam McDermott, R. B. Rylander and Preston Graves, who will assess the damages.

The City of Cameron has assumed the cost of the right of way through the city and for the Santa Fe underpass.

Work is expected to begin by December 1, according to W. M. Cobb, Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

This selling event is the annual merchandising campaign of the store and will meet all expectations of buyers.

Brilliant Maroon Squad Triumphs in Night Game

Flashing a brand of football that kept spectators in a state of perpetual "jitters" the Cameron Yoemen brushed aside the yellow jacketed Hornets from Caldwell Friday night to run up an overwhelming score against their all time rivals. When the smoke finally cleared away and things began to drift back to earth it was discovered that the Yoemen had put over five touchdowns, scored one point after touchdown against seven points for Caldwell.

It was a game replete with thrills from whistle to gun. Caldwell won the toss and elected to receive and within four minutes after receiving the ball from kick-off the Hornets by a series of well executed passes and line plunges had put over a touchdown and added the extra point. It looked too bad for the Yoemen, but not for long. Cameron then received the kick an din a series of first downs characterized by spectacular end runs and off tackle plays marched straight across the goal line with Clinton Breeding carrying the ball and making the extra point to tie the score.

Shortly afterward Caldwell threatened to score again but the Yoemen took possession of the ball on downs and duplicated their first march down the field by another march quite as spectacular ending in another touchdown and the first half was ended, Cameron 13, Caldwell 7.

After the half the Yoemen came back with added flash and sparkle to chalk up three more touchdowns before the final gun. The last of these came after Simmie Smith intercepted a Caldwell pass on his own ten yard line and ran the ball back to the forty yard line after which Breeding behind beautiful blocking and interference flashed into a broken field to step sixty yards for the final score.

It was a dizzy game and the victory was all the more welcome to Cameron because of its being the first time the Yoemen have defeated Caldwell in five years. While the team as a whole was clicking in grand style special mention should be given Terry for the terrific line smashing and Breeding for his ability to twist and side step for needed yardage whenever he was called upon. Gillis shifted from Center to Backfield turned in a wonderful game and Avriett and Graham at ends dealt the Hornets plenty of misery. Newton in the backfield got away for repeated long gains and the interception of Caldwell's passes by Evans and Smith were instrumental in bringing about touchdowns for Cameron. Gilbert playing his first year for the Yoemen turned in a nice game while Eickenhorst, Mode, Blaylock, Conner, Blocker, Barrett, Pemberton and Triggs all played real football. Kirk's tackling was one of the real features of the game. He rarely missed his man.

Relieves Women's Pains

Here is an example of how Cardui has helped thousands of women:

"I was very thin and pale," writes Mrs. F. H. Scott, of Roanoke, Va. "I suffered from weakness and a severe pain in my back. This pain unnerved me, and I did not feel like doing my work. I did not care to go places, and felt worn, tired, day after day.

"My mother had taken Cardui, and on seeing my condition she advised me to try it. I have never regretted doing so. I took three bottles and it built me up. I gained in weight, my color was better and the pain left my back. I am stronger than I had been in some time."

Cardui, the purely vegetable medicine which so many women take and recommend, is sold by local druggists.

Open house was held by the Business & Professional Women's Club at their new club rooms on North College Street Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

The rooms were decorated in a Halowe'en motif. Twenty tables were arranged for games of bridge and forty-two where merry games held interest for a season. At the close of the games, table accessories were removed and tables were laid with Hallow'en paper covers. Pumpkin pie topped with whipped cream was served with hot coffee and cream.

The club is very grateful for the courtesy of the Cooper Grocery Co. of Waco, in furnishing abundance of coffee for the occasion with their demonstrator, Mrs. Moore, to prepare same.

This was the first of a series of entertainments being planned for the club's activities during the winter season.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY

A unique Hallowe'en party with 50 people of the congregation of the Christian church attending was held Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Young.

As the front room was locked, the guests upon arrival were asked to ascend a ladder that gave entrance through a window into the dining room which was a Chamber of Horrors, where thrills were experienced as ghosts with cold clammy hands greeted them. Finally escaping thru other rooms of horror, were greeted in the living rooms where the decorations were more quieting.

Miss Grace Eplen, assisted by Mrs. W. G. Harsha, Miss Loraine Wade, Beanie Archer and Vernon Slocomb, conducted games and stunts. Later the guests were served several kinds of sandwiches and coffee which was the courtesy of the Duncan Coffee Co.

CLASS PARTY

Mrs. R. L. Batte's Sunday School class enjoyed a class party at the church Friday afternoon. A short business session was held, followed with a program led by Mrs. H. N. Tate.

Mrs. W. R. Hoover gave a voice number. Mrs. W. B. Levy accompanied her on the piano.

Circle No. 1 of the class, directed by Mrs. Winnie Wittliff, served refreshments at the close of the program, that carried out the chosen Hallowe'en theme.

SHOWER

Among the prenuptial entertainments given Miss Euline Slaughter, bride of the week, was a shower by Misses Hilda and Goldye Burke and Althea Dickens, at the home of the latter. Beautiful fall flowers featuring pink zenias and queenswreath in vases, floor baskets and wall pockets lent a summer scene for the party.

A mock wedding with a number taking part, was a feature of the evening, followed with stunts. At this time the Express man arrived with a package. Miss Slaughter signed for same, and it was found to contain many gifts.

Each guest wrote a wish, and gave timely advice on paper that was rolled into a scroll, tied with a tiny ribbon, and laid on the salad plate, which was served with ice punch.

Other lovely entertainments were given Miss Slaughter during the week; among them was a delightful party by Mrs. Jesse Brock at her home where a pleasant evening was spent; and also one by Miss Ethel Mondrik at her home in West Cameron.

The guests enjoyed a salad course served in the dining room where the table was laid with lace cover, centered with fall roses and greenery.

Guests other than club members were Mrs. Mary Henderson and Mrs. L. Polk.

BRIDGE

Mrs. A. J. Triggs was hostess at bridge Tuesday afternoon. Fall roses gave a charming floral setting for the three tables of players, and at completion of merry games high score was won by Mrs. B. F. Bonds, a novelty leather glove and handkerchief case which bears the distinction of being manufactured in the factory that is run by Mrs. F. D. Roosevelt. Low went to Mrs. Oxsheer Smith who was awarded a baking dish. The hostess was assisted in serving a salad plate with ice by Mrs. W. A. Bonds.

Mrs. Triggs was hostess to the Wednesday Bridge Club this week, and used the same decorations as used the day before. A special guest of the occasion was Mrs. George Simonds, of Greenville, who formerly lived in Cameron and has many friends here who were delighted to wlcome her for the occasion. She was presented with a guests prize during the afternoon.

High cuts went to Mrs. William Triggs and low fell to Mrs. R. D. Brown.

BRIDGE PARTY

A dainty salad plate with coffee was served on bamboo trays at the close of the evening.

The Road To Better Health

WHY IS THE APPENDIX?

By Dr. William J. Scholes

The appendix is located at the junction of the large and small intestine, and is from two to three inches long and 1-4 to 1-2 inch in diameter. It has a narrow canal which communicates with the intestine at one extremity and ends blindly at the other like an elongated sack.

The "Function" of the Appendix

What its function is has never been conclusively demonstrated. Not only that, but it is highly improbable in the writer's opinion that it has any function.

One theory has been that the appendix secretes a fluid which has to do with the digestion of egg albumin. But the fact that its canal closes in most persons after the age of forty and they still eat eggs makes this theory unsound. Furthermore, people live on after surgical removal of the appendix, indication that it serves no vital purpose

It may be the remains of a structure that is gradually becoming extinct because changes in our mode of living make it no longer a necessary part of the body economy. Rabbits have a structure nearly twelve inches long that corresponds to the human appendix.

Again, it may be nothing but a remnant of embryonic life, during which it might have a function which becomes obsolete after birth. Such a situation exists in other parts of the body. For example, the heart during fetal life has an opening which connects its two sides, but which closes immediately after birth.

Inflammation of the Appendix —Appendicitis

The old-time cases of inflamation of the bowels were nothing more nor less than appendicitis. Inflammation of the appendix becomes serious when its opening into the intestine becomes clogged and infectious matter is unable to find an exit. So long as drainage exists nothing can happen. The moment the opening closes as a result of thickening of the lining trouble begins. The gravity of the situation depends on the severity of the inflammation, the type of the infection and the reaction to it, and the degree of circumscription of the process.

If the inflammation subsides within twenty-four hours, the opening of the appendix is restored and drainage into the gut re-established. If the infection is promptly met by an increase in phagocytes (the white blood cells that destroy germs) it is overpowered. If a wall of adhesion is built up around the appendix spread of the inflammatory process is prevented.

Prevention and Treatment of Appendicitis

There is no denying that thousands of needless appendix operation shave been performed. It is likewise true that many patients have refused operative interference that was necessary. The proper progrm in every case lies between these extremes. An intelligat patient and a conscientious physician will always find it.

Nagging Pains are WARNING SIGNALS

TEMPORARY pain relief remedies may save you much suffering at the moment, but putting a mask over a warning signal does not clear up the condition it was telling you to avoid.

When periodic pains, due to a weak, run-down condition, distress you, treatment for the cause of the trouble should be started without delay.

Take Cardui to build up against the nagging symptoms of ordinary womanly ailments. It has been in use for over 50 years. So many women praise CARDUI, it must be good to have the widespread use that it has today. Sold at drug stores.

Bad Taste in Mouth, Sour Stomach

For quick relief from constipation troubles, such as are mentioned below, get a 25-cent package of Thedford's BLACK-DRAUGHT and begin taking it today.

"I have suffered a great deal from biliousness and constipation," writes Mrs. D. C. Jones, of Waterloo, Ala. "When I get bilious I have a bad taste in my mouth, have sour stomach, my color is bad, and I get dizzy and feel awfully bad. I have headache constantly. When I take Black-Draught it relieves me and I feel like a new person. I don't think there is a better medicine than Black-Draught."

Now you can get Black-Draught in the form of a SYRUP, for CHILDREN.

Why Doctors Favor a Liquid Laxative

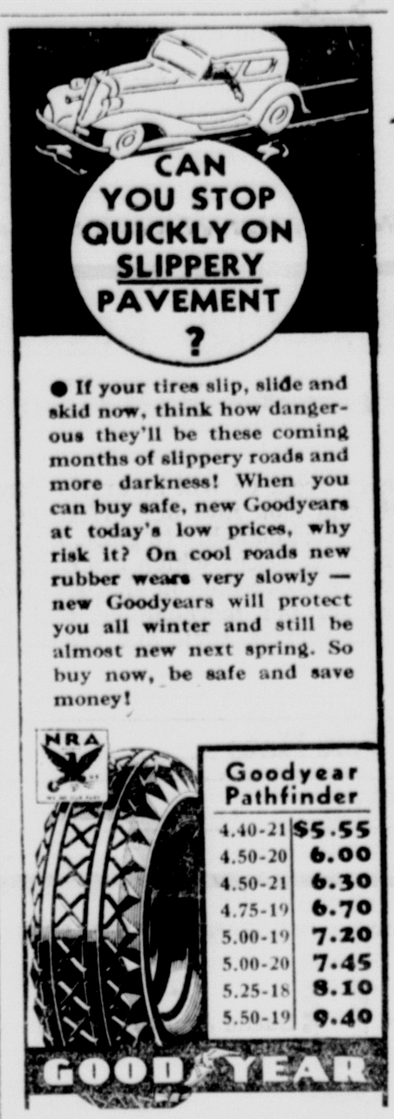
A doctor will tell you that the careless choice of laxatives is a common cause of chronic constipation.

Any hospital offers evidence of the harm done by harsh laxatives that drain the system, weaken the bowel muscles, and even affect the liver and kidneys.

Fortunately, the public is fast returning to laxatives in liquid form. The dose of a liquid laxative can be measured. The action can thus be controlled. It forms no habit; you needn't take a "double dose" a day or two later.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has the average person's bowels regular as clockwork in a few weeks' time. Why not try it? Some pill or tablet may be more convenient to carry. But there is little "convenience" in any cathartic which is taken so frequently, you must carry it with you, wherever you go!

Its very taste tells you Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is wholesome. A delightful taste, and delightful action. Safe for expectant mothers, and children. All druggists, ready for use, in big bottles. Member N. R. A.



● If your tires slip, slide and skid now, think how dangerous they'll be these coming months of slippery roads and more darkness! When you can buy safe, new Goodyears at today's low prices, why risk it? On cool roads new rubber wears very slowly — new Goodyears will protect you all winter and still be almost new next spring. So buy now, be safe and save money!

Milam County To Have Chapter of Protective Game Association

J. Frank Elder, President of the game and Fish Protective Association of Waco, was in Cameron Monday to organize a chapter of the association here. Several of the local sportsmen are taking part in the work, including F. C. Fahrendorf, M. C. Fox, W. B. Levy, Chas. H. Pollard and B. V. Roberts.

Mr. Elder will return to Cameron later and organize the Milam County Chapter. The purpose of the organization is to unite the sportsmen of Texas under one flag.

The Game and Fish department has not funds to protect the game and fish as they should, and he said it is up to the sportsmen to band themselves together in the interest of the wild life.

The petition will be left with Mr. Pollard and he will be glad to have your name.

Time passes but Memories remain

IFTEEN YEARS! Time passes but memories remain. And they bring to mind again that eventful Armistice Day of 1918 when the World sheathed its sword and breathed a prayer of thankfulness that Civilization had been saved.

The greatest victory in all history! Sadly, however, it was not without its cost. In Flanders fields and in our own consecrated ground, lie many brave lads whose lives paid for the Security and Liberty that is ours today.

They gave their all in devotion to their country and their fellow man. And, in return, it is but our sacred duty to once again Honor Their Memory.

Let us pay homage to the undying glory of their sacrifice. Let us pause where'er we are at at 11 a. m., Armistice Day, and . . . in remembrance and reverence . . . silently—

Mr. Pope resides in Shreveport, La., and is a member of the pioneer Pope family of this city. He is visiting in the old Dr. Pope home and in telling of his experiences 57 years ago said:

"I landed in Rockdale Dec. 15, 1876, but came the next day to the McCown place on Little River near Cameron, where my brother, T. A. Pope, then resided. When I first saw Cameron it was nothing more than a village of about 200 people.

"The needs of the surrounding territory were taken care of by two general merchandise stores managed by Akerman and Smith, and W. D. Streetman; the J. B. Moore drug store; the Ed Eaton and Mr. Phillips saloons; the John Randolph hotel; the Worcester Bros.' meat market; the J. G. Neihr saddle shop; Z. T. Sissin shoe shop; the John M. Tucker livery stable, and the Yoe Bros.' blacksmith shop. There were three doctors here that I remember. I have forgotton the name of one, but the other two were Doctors Powell and N. Cass. Nathan Garrett an danother man by the name of Rogers were lawyers.

"The courthouse at that time was a two-story brick building, not very large. Bob Homan was district clerk, Jeff Rogers, county clerk, Mitt Livingston, sheriff.

"Of those I met when I came to Cameron and during my two years here, and that are still living here, are Mr. and Mrs. John B. McLane, Mrs. Cornelia Vogel, Tom Sampson and Lu Meyers."

"Silence May Be Golden"... BUT... Not In Business

The Question is, Mr. Tradesman, "do you want the news of what you have to sell reach the greatest possible number of buyers OR ... keep quiet about it and trust to luck they will look you up?" If you take the latter course you'll find you're a long time waiting "between sales."

In Our Show Window Appears This Symbol

This symbol ℞ appears on every prescription that your Doctor writes and has remained a custom from the ancient days to the present time. The heading ℞ appearing on your prescriptions is an abbreviation of the word recipe (Take)—the imperative of the Latin verb recipio.

The use of the inclined stroke upon the tail of the ℞ is traced to a custom common in the ancient days of superstition of placing at the top of the prescription an abbreviation, called an "invocation" which represented a prayer to a favorite Deity.

We display this symbol ℞ with this explanation, for it symbolizes our drug store as a Prescription Pharmacy.

For 43 years the prescription department has been the corner stone of this business, during which time we have maintained the standard—the quality at all times has been the best obtainable—the number of prescriptions compounded runs into the hundreds of thousands, and none other than capable Registered Pharmacists have been here to serve you.

In time of sickness and distress you need the services of the Pharmacist. Your State (for your protection) now requires that he be a Graduate of Pharmacy and in addition thereto pass the Texas State Board of Pharmacy before becoming eligible to compound your prescriptions.

Use this Drug Store if you appreciate this kind of service.
